Course Description:

This course provides an introduction to the world's largest faith traditions. Our goal is to gain, as far as is possible, a participant's appreciation of what is cherished by adherents of these traditions. After an introduction describing the methods, history, and controversies in the academic field of religious studies, we will examine – through a phenomenological lens - the rituals, ceremonies, teachings, beliefs and worldview assumptions of adherents of the Religions of India (Jainism, Hinduism, Sikhism), Religions of China, Australasia and the Pacific Islands, Buddhism, Shinto, Religions of Persia/Iran, Judaism, Christianity, and Islam. Issues of religion and violence and religious responses to social issues – such as environmentalism, sexism, and poverty – will also be discussed.

Course Goals:

The goals of the course are to aid students in their future interactions with adherents of other faith traditions and to provide them with an accurate historical, creedal and experiential introduction to the worldview assumptions and religious experiences of adherents of various traditions. In addition to a sense of basic "literacy" of terms and major historical events and personages in the development of these traditions, students will also be encouraged to reflect on the centrality of religious faith for many worldwide and explore possible roles for religion in social progress.

Required Textbook:

- ✧ Coelho, Paulo The Alchemist.
- ✧ Molloy, Michael. Experiencing the World Religions.
- ✧ Novak, Philip, The World's Wisdom: Sacred Texts of the World's Religions, San Francisco: Harper Collins, 1995.

Grading Policy:

For Written Assignments -You'll be graded on these criteria:

- ✧ Induction: Are the conclusions in writing based on concrete evidence?

- ✧ Accuracy: Are inferences drawn have clear relation to texts consulted?
- ✧ Originality: Is your writing fresh and do you properly cite other sources?
- ✧ Depth: Are issues probed w/thoroughness & focus? Do not simply “re-tell.”
- ✧ Organization: Does your writing show a logical procession?
- ✧ Relative thoroughness: Is writing as complete as possible?
- ✧ Clarity: Have you expressed ideas with directness? No page-limit “filler.”
- ✧ Format: Have you double-spaced, typed, and proofread all work? Did you avoid sexist language? Is your name/page # on each page? Did you include a cover-sheet with your name/student I.D./Time of class?

Late Work is not accepted. Any plagiarism or cheating will not be tolerated and will result in FAILING THE ENTIRE CLASS. Final grades are not reviewable; ask any questions at all before grades are submitted.

Assignments:

- ✧ A 5-7 page (double-spaced)- Response to Coelho book (100 points) Write in the form of a letter to author and tell how your own views relate to/differ from the themes of the book. Ask questions. Include cover page/name each page.
- ✧ Midterm Test (worth 100 points)
- ✧ Final Examination (100 points)

A Note about Inclusive Language: Inclusive language recognizes that language can exclude or marginalize women. Ways to write with more inclusive language include using the plural form, omitting pronouns, using formal style or using compound words (he/she). One can also use articles in place of pronouns, repeat nouns, use the passive voice or use specific examples.

Grading Scale:

Assignments and examinations will be graded according to the following grade scale:

A	90-100	C+	72-74
A-	85-89	C	68-71
B+	82-84	C-	64-67
B	78-81	D	60-63
